PERSONAL DATA PROTECTION

The Parties agree to comply with Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of April 27, 2016, on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (GDPR), Organic Law 3/2018 of December 5 on the Protection of Personal Data and the Guarantee of Digital Rights (LOPDGDD), and any other regulations that replace, supplement, or elaborate upon them.

Depending on the nature and purpose of the contractual relationship between the Parties, it shall be determined whether such relationship involves any processing of personal data and, if so, whether a relationship of joint controllers, controller-controller, or controller-processor is established between the Parties; in such cases, they shall inter into the contract or legal instrument provided for in the GDPR and the LOPDGDD to govern said relationship.

The CONTRACTING PARTY shall provide the SUPPLIER with the appropriate data protection contract or agreement template. The SUPPLIER agrees to provide the CONTRACTING PARTY with the information necessary for its preparation. The signing of this document shall be a prerequisite for commencing the provision of services. If the services involve different types of processing, it may be necessary to sign more than one agreement.

With regard to the personal data of the Parties' representatives and contact persons (hereinafter, the "Data Subjects"), their identification and professional contact details will be processed, respectively, by each of the Parties, which will act independently as data controllers. Such data will be processed within the framework of the legal advisory and support services provided to the Parties and to ensure the proper conduct of the contractual relationship between the Parties, as well as, where applicable, to comply with the regulatory obligations imposed on the Parties, without any automated decisions being made that could affect the Data Subjects. Consequently, the legal basis for the processing is the Parties' legitimate interest in ensuring the efficient and proper legal management of the Parties' affairs, as well as in ensuring the validity and enforcement of this contract.

The Data Subjects' personal data will be processed for as long as necessary for the purposes of the processing. Subsequently, the data will be stored solely for the purpose of complying with required legal obligations and for the establishment, exercise, or defense of claims, for the duration of the statute of limitations applicable to the relevant actions.

The data will not be disclosed to third parties, except to Public Administrations or Authorities in compliance with a legal obligation. Likewise, service providers and suppliers may have access to personal data, in their capacity as data processors, with whom the relevant Party has entered into the corresponding contracts to fulfil the purposes indicated above.

In the event that either Party transfers the data outside the European Economic Area, it will do so based on the adoption of one of the appropriate safeguards provided for by applicable regulations.

Data subjects may exercise, under the terms established by current legislation, their rights of access, rectification, and erasure of data, as well as request that the processing of their personal data be restricted, object to such processing, or request the portability of their data, by sending a written communication to the relevant Party at the contact address specified in this document, indicating "Data Protection Representatives."

Likewise, Data Subjects may contact the respective data protection officers of the Parties, when such Parties are required to have designated one. In the case of the Naturgy Group, at the following address: dpd-dpo@naturgy.com

Furthermore, Data Subjects may file a complaint with the Spanish Data Protection Authority (www.aepd.es) or another competent authority, or contact the Data Protection Officer prior to contacting the supervisory authority.

Each Party agrees to inform its Data Subjects of the information contained in this clause, without the other Party being required to take any additional action with respect to such Data Subjects regarding the content of this clause.

Each Party shall bear liability for any breach of applicable personal data protection laws resulting from its acts or omissions. Each Party shall indemnify and hold the other Party harmless, authorizing the other Party to pass on to it the amount of any and all indemnities, penalties, and expenses arising from claims by data subjects, or initiated ex officio by the competent authority, due to its negligence and/or breach of confidentiality, improper use, processing, or disclosure of personal data, or any other violation of personal data protection regulations, provided that such breach is attributable to that Party.
